Miss Minnie Russell of Terre Haute, Gets Breach-of-Promise Damages.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. DELPHI, June 24.—The attention of the Circuit Court has been monopolized this week by the breach-of-promise suit of Minnie Russell, of Terre Haute, against "Commodore" Wesley C. Brown, of this county. The plaintiff is an attractive-looking young woman twenty-three years of age. The defendant is fifty-three, and lived a bachelor until a few months ago, when he married. This marriage made Russell angry, and she brought suit for $5,000 damages. Brown weighs three hundred pounds, and is worth $12,000. The fair plaintiff alleges that she and Brown entered into a marriage contract in 1887, and that he gave her an engagement ring and money with which to prepare her wardrobe. Brown says he corresponded with the young woman, and went to Terre Haute to see her, but declares she did not suit him. He says he told her that the woman who became his wife would have to milk cows and make butter, and he was satisfied she could not do this. After being out twelve hours the jury brought in a verdict awarding the plaintiff $1,000 damages. Several members of the jury wanted to give the girl $4,000.

FRAUDULENT CONCERNS.

Pennsylvania Insurance Companies That Claim More Assets than They Have. HARRISBURG, Pa., June 24.-The attention of Mr. Geo. B. Leuper, Insurance Commissioner, has been called to a circular issued by an alleged association, claiming room No. 269 Ballitt Building, Philadelphia, as its home, and bearing the euphonious name of the "Pennsylvania Mutual Underwriters' Association," an department, stating that the following companies were under their supervision. and showing them to have fabulous assets and scarcely any habilities: Steelton Mutual Fire Insurance, Steelton; People's Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Harrisburg; Dauphin Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Dauphin; Merchants' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of Altoona; Capital City Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of Harrisburg. All of which are incorporated under the act of May 1, 1876. As the result of an examination, Mr. Leuper says: "Instead of the companies having $1,444,497 assets and only $12,508.30 habilities, as advertised, it is discovered by these examinations that their aggregate assets amount to but $30,629, and their liabilities to $42,565.75.

The assets are practically worthless. Business Embarrassments. CINCINNATI, June 24.-Another assignment by the company which has the lease of the Grand Hotel was made to-day to C. B. Warring & Bro. and S. Wolfstein. There have been many legal fights in connection with this hotel, and the courts had ordered a sale to take place to-morrow. At a meeting of the directors of the company holding the lease, held last night, the assignment was agreed upon, and thus a new

"Blue Jeans" Plagiarized from "Roxy." NEW YORK, June 24 .- Dr. Edward Eggleston, on his return from Europe in May, received information from various sources that the play of "Blue Jeans," which had so long a run in New York last winter, was largely plagiarized from his novel of "Roxy." One dramatic critic has taken pains to make careful comparisons and found what he considered evidence of flagrant plagiarism. Mr. Eggleston made a journey to Chicago to attend McVicker's Theater, where "Blue Jeans" is now running, on the evening of June 11. He found many parts of the dialogue taken verbatim from "Roxy." Several of the characters and situations of that novel were also reproduced. He accordingly got a friend to take a box on the following evening, and into this box he sent a woman reporter. Toward the end of the second act she was detected by an employe of the theater and her notes were taken away from her. Dr. Eggleston has, however, by other means secured sufficient evidence to warrant him in beginning a suit for infringement. He has instructed his lawyers to begin legal proceedings for the protection of his rights.

AT ST. MARY'S OF THE WOODS

Commencement and Jubilee at the Institute Founded by Mother Theodore.

The Day at Harvard Observed According to the Time-Honored Custom-Yale's Second Female Graduate Given a Degree.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 24.-The commencement exercises proper at St. Mary's of the Woods Academic Institute to-day closed the jubilee year celebration. It was fifty years ago, Oct. 22, that Mother Theodore and five co-laborers came from France to Vincennes, and thence by stage and coach to the site of the beautiful school, and there in the wilderness founded the mother institution for religious education in this country.

The order of Sisters of Providence was founded by Mile. Julia Josephine Zoe Rolland du Roscoat, daughter of Count du Roscoat, of France, whose estate was confiscated during the revolution. In 1842 fire destroyed all their provisions and agricultural implements. Mother Theodore and sister Cecilia, a novice, went to France in 1843 to procure assistance. Queen Amelia, wife of Louis Phillipe, took up their cause and helped them greatly. She gave them a portrait of herself, which is on the wall of one of the rooms at the school. In an historical sketch prepared by the sisters is this: "In early days it was not a mere happening to find sisters gathering brush and rolling together logs to be burnt, the ordinary means of clearing the land. Fingers whose magic touch drew from harp and piano a soul-stirring melody, or guided the brush in producing portraits, plied with equal dexterity, at least with equal energy, the handspike and

Each month increased the number of pupils, and in 1845 the small building was enlarged. Branch schools were opened in various parts of the State, and the number of postulants increased. As years went by the buildings were enlarged. Mother Theo-dore died in 1856, but two of her colaborers who came from France are yet at the institute. The first postulant they received, Mrs. George D. Rand, of Keokuk, Ia., the oldest living graduate, of the class of 1861, was attending the exercises to-day. There are now six hundred Sisters of Providence in the United States, and all of them will be here next month to attend the annual retreat at the mother's home, whose buildings are the grandest in the State, surrounded by five hundred acres of groves and farm land. Following was the programme of the exercises to-day, which was followed by an address by United States Senator Turpie:

dastardly and horrible sort that seems to be on the increase in the United States. The number of young men who, when the young woman to whom they have been paying court rejects them, avenge themselves by killing or seeking to kill her, and afterward put themselves out of the reach of human punishment by committing suicide, A striking illustration of this homicidal and suicidal mania occurred in Waterbury, Conn., last Saturday night. A pretty and popular young woman of that town, who had just rejected for the twentieth time the attentions of a persistent and annoying suitor, was shot down in the street at her own door. Her would-be lover, thinking he had killed her, placed the revolver at his own temples and blew his brains out. Fortunately his attempt at murder was less successful than his attempt at snicide. The young woman was only slightly wounded. and will soon be about again.

Probably the world loses nothing by the death of the suicide. The life of so mean, malignant and cowardly an individual can be worth very little to mankind. But there is reason to regret that this suicidal endeavor was successful. It would have been much better if he could have been put under arrest and subjected to rigorous legal punishment as a warning to others of the same sort. Nothing would be so likely to do away with this permicious kind of mock heroics, instigated by meane jealousy and seifishness, so thoroughly as the sentence to imprisonment for life of those who at-

The sympathy which certain sentimental persons are inclined to lavish upon murderous suicides and would-be suicides of this variety is absolutely thrown away. The man who seeks to force his hand upon a woman who does not want to marry him deserves contempt. When he determines that if he cannot have her no one else shall, and tries to kill her to place her beyond the reach of better men, his act merits the harshest punishment the law can inflict. and the deep detestation of every decent human being.

Good Word for Graduates.

Philadelphia Press. While some of the half-baked wits are making themselves merry at the expense of 'graduates," the New York collegians, undeterred by their uselessness as pointed out in cartoon and elephantine editorial, are proving the value of their life in the halls they love so well by widening their sphere of usefulness. By forming the University Settlement Society they expect to do much for their fellow-men who have been unfortunate in not having had the same social or intellectual advantages. Not only will they endeavor by lectures to arouse an interest in matters of general culture, but they will prove their brotherhood and humanity by living among those whom they would elevate. Their club-house will be a center for the tenement neighborhood, and there the workers will live, making visits in their allotted dis-trict, and thus introducing into many homes all the stimuli toward a better life that trained minds backed by broad culture and open hearts can suggest. These men, young and old, who are taking such a noble movement, and, like their brother graduates in other spheres, doing a large part toward carrying on the affairs of this great country, in the heyday of their last year at college, no doubt, wrote just such essays, delivered just such orations as afford so much fodder for the paragraphists with the brain fag. Judged, however, by standards of common sense, their ailings appear as motes beside the huge beams of misconception, misrepresentation and misinformation found in the average witty lucubration of the "graduates" critic now abroad in the landis not more sudden or unlooked for than the attack of some malignant disease which would not occur were the blood in order. To impure blood is due a great variety of ills that make life a burden.

All the year round, you may rely upon Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify the blood and invigorate the system. It's not like the sarsaparillas, that are said to be good for the blood in March, April and May. The "Discovery" works equally well at all times, and in all cases of blood-taints, or humors, no matter what their name or nature. It's the cheapest blood-purifier. sold through druggists, because you only pay for the good you get. Your money is returned if it
